

ST BOTOLPH'S LONGTHORPE HERITAGE OPEN DAY 14TH SEPTEMBER 2019

Pictures by Jonathan Craymer and Jane Hogg

Eddie and Jackie begin the day with prayers. Liz on the exercise bike

Maggie (1) and Angie (2) with healthy, homemade goodies Making a fruit kebab

Irene, visiting ex Paralympian volunteer, fetches a well-earned cuppa from the catering staff. John sets out the stall.

Statistics for the day

About 170 involved in the day

Just under 30 of those helped in some way

About 90 of them came from PE3.

The Health Fayre events of dancing and singing attracted the biggest visitor numbers. But during the day we had all sorts of visitors:

- Two men searching for war graves. We were able to show them where to find them in the graveyard and the extensive research done on them by local war historian, Jane King
- A steady stream of visitors coming from Longthorpe Tower, having seen our strategically placed sign.
- The young family who enjoyed peeling apples the fun way at the children's table and then did the children's quiz round church. They told us they often visit the church which they see as a special place.

- Many visitors enjoyed the glorious sunshine or a cuppa and a cake in the cloister

- The St Botolph's Ride and Stride team set off just after 10am